WASHINGTON SENTINEL.

TRI-WEEKLY. VOL. 3.

NO. 65.

CITY OF WASHINGTON, THURSDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 28, 1856.

WOOD GAS. CAUTION. BE it known that I, the subscriber ob-tamed letters patent in December, 1851, for an apparatus for the destructive distillation of wood, and the making therefrom of tur or pitch at wood, and the making therefrom of tar or pitch at pleasure, and gas; and that in the judgment of competent persons the invention of an appartus recently patented by W. D. Porter cannot be used by him or any other person without infringing my said patent. And, further, that what is patented by said Porter rightfully belongs to me, as I expect to prove ere long before the United States Patent Office; and, further, that the use of said Porter's invention involves also a process which I am now claiming before the United States Patent Office, and which has been adjudged to be patentable to the first inventor thereof, and which said W. D. Porter has formally disclaimed, as appears upon the public records of said office, of which an official copy is hereto annexed, and also a copy of his claims.

which an official copy is hereto unnexed, and also a copy of his claims.

In the National Intelligencer of the 25th instant Mr. Porter announces that he has secured by patent the "exclusive right to making gas from wood," and threatens presecution to all parties infringing his patent. I ask how this statement comports with the fact of my patent of December, 1851, and how far the threat can intimidate undersuch circumstances? Mr. Porter's claim is based upon a movable perforated diaphragm, and was so understood by the Patent Office, as it appears from the records of the Patent Office that his claim was at first refused as interfering with a prior patent to Robert Foulis, of Canada, for an equivalent contrivance. This claim, as given below, and in which the perforated diaphragm is the equivalent contrivance. This claim, as given be-low, and in which the perforated diaphragm is the saving clause, is what Mr. Porter calls securing the "exclusive right to making gas from wood.", The statement carries absurdity on its front, and is a libel on the good sense of the Patent Office If such a claim or right had been granted, it would forbid every coal-kiln and charcoal manufactory in the country.

The following copies of correspondence and extracts from the records of the Patent Office will show the true state of the case:

UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE, Argust 25, 1854.

Sig. in reply to your letter of the date, asking "if any patent has been granted to W. D. Porter, dated 22d August, 1854, or at any other time, or dated 22d August, 1854, or at any other time, or to any other person or persons, securing to him or them "the exclusive right of making gas from wood," and whether any such claim was made by W. D. Porter, under his application for a patent, which letters patent were issued bearing the above date, you are informed that W. D. Porter's claims are believed to be c unined to his apparaius; and, further, this office is not aware that a patent has been granted heretofore for the exclusive right of making gas from word. PROPOSE to publish in the city of Washington, in September, a political newspaper, under the same of the WASHINGTON SENTINEL.

NEL.

In doing so, it is proper I should make known the principles it will maintain, and the pohcy it will advocate.

It will support cordially and carnestly the principles of the Democratic party of the United States it does not propose to be the organ of any Department of the Government, except in so far as an independent maintenance of the doctrines of that party nay represent its opinions and except in so far

It will not be ambitious to commend itself to the It will not be ambitious to commend itself to the people by a blind flattery of their rulers. It will seek public support by the bold avowal of the sentiments which are common to the genuine Democracy of the Union, and by the condemnation of all such as may conflict with them, from whatever quarter they may come. It will seek to be (and it will endeavor to deserve the title) the organ of the Democratic party of the United States.

The SENTINEL will maintain, as a fundamental trath of that great party, that the States formed the Union between them by the ratification of the Cou others to the States, or to their separate governments. The exercise of any powers beyond these thus delegated, is, therefore, an usurpation of the reserved authority of the States by the agent of their own creation.

The SENTINEL will uphold and defend the Union upon the basis of the rights of the States—under the Constitution—and thus by sedulously guarding the latter, it will the more effectually strengthen and perspectate the forms.

and perpetuate the former. With regard to the exercise of the powers of the Federal Government, the SENTINEL will take as the principles of its action, that Congress shall ex-ercis no power which has not been delegated by the Constitution, according to a strict and fair in-terpret tion of its language and spirit; and that it shall at seek to attain indirectly an object through the exer ise of constitutional power, for the direct attainme t of which it has no delegation of power. In other words, all powers exercised must be clearly gra ted, and all granted powers must be used for no surpose, except such as is clearly intended by the Constitution.

In respect to the internal administration of the Sovernment, the SENTINEL will sustain the settled policy of the Democratic party. It will labor to neuleste this cardinal doctrine of Democratic in inculcate this cardinal doctrine of Democratic in ternal policy:—that this Government will best promote the freedom and prosperity of the people of the States, by being less ambitious to exercise power, and more anxious to preserve liberty; and by leaving to the individual States the management of all their domestic concerns—while it contents itself with guarding the confederacy from external violence, and directing the foreign policy of the country to the promotion of the common interests, and defence of the common rights, and honor of the States composing it.

The Sentinel will advocate such a progressive foreign policy as will suit itself to the exigencies.

and correspond with the expanding interests of the country. That policy should be energetic and decided; but should temper firmness with liberality, and make its highest ends consist with the strictest principles of justice. The real interests of the country, upon each occession demanding attention will be its guide in the course the SENTINEL wil

The national policy of the world in this age is essentially aggressive. In the growing sense of weakness of some of the nations of the Old World, and the ambitious restlessness of others, a com mon motive to colonial extension has developed prompt us to avoid it in the affairs of other coun tries, unless by their foreign or colonial policy our peace should be threatened, our security endan gered, or our interests invaded. For when the selfish interests of other nations prompt a foreign or colonial policy which infringes upon our rights, and places in the pathway of our commerce a dangerous and unfriendly rival, such a policy most be resisted by remonstrance, and, if need be, ky

Our foreign policy should indeed, be defensive, but to be properly defensive, it must sometimes be apparently aggressive. Our administration should be vigilant, watchful, and energetic. The world is full of important movements, commercial and is full of important movements, commercial and political, deeply concerning American trade and American power. It is time we had an American foreign policy. We must have it: We cannot avoid it if we would. We have larger interests, and a greater stake in the world and its destiny, than every other people. We occupy the best portion of a continent, with no neighbors but a colony, and of a continent, with no neighbors but a cotony, and a worn-out, anarchical despotism. We are the oliny people whose own land, without colonial defendencies, is washed by the two great oceans of the world. Our agricultural productions are more varied and more essential to civilized life, and to human progress—our mineral and manufacturing resources more vast—our facilities and capacity for internal and foreign commerce more extended than those of any other people living under one government. A continent, to a great extent, un-explored and exhaustless in its yet hidden wealth is at our feet. European trade seeks the great East through avenues which are at our doors, or must be made through our own limits. Europe, Asia, Africa, and the isles of the sea, lying all around Africa, and the isles of the sea, lying all ground us, look to us as the rising power, through the agency of whose example, and ever widening and extending, though peaceful influences, the bless ings of liberty, civilization, and religion, are destined to triumph over the barbarism and superstition of the millions of the world. And shall such a people refuse to lay hold upon their destiny, and act upon the high mission to which it is called? A mission so full of hope, though so laden with responsibility, which, if properly directed, must make our confederacy the harbinger of peace to the world, as well as the peaceful arbiter of its the world, as well as the peaceful arbiter of its

The SENTINEL will, therefore, advocate a and earnest foreign policy, such as the condition of the country demands; but it will advocate it under the flag of the country—nowhere else. Its foreign policy must be consistent with the spotless honor and unimpeachable good faith of the country. To be respectable at home and abroad, and to be great in the eyes of the world, it must ask for nothing but what is right, and submit to nothing that is wrong. It must be liberal and magnanimous to the rights of others, and firm and immoveable in insisting on its own. It must, in fine, be true to its own interests, rights, and honor—it cannot then be false to those of other nations. Such, then, is the chart by which we shall be guided. Independent and free, we shall endeavor to be honest and truthful. The true friends of democratic principles we shall cordially support and defend. Its enemies in the field or in ambush we shall oppose, and on all proper occasions de nounce.

To our future brethren of the press we extend the hand of friendly greeting. The Sentinel is the rival of no press of its own party—the personal enemy of none of the other.

The present Democratic Administration has our best wishes for its success in the establishment of the great principles upon which it came into power; and in its honest labors to attain such an end it will find the SENTINEL its friend and coadjutor.

PROSPECTUS.—SOUTHERN CONSERvative Magazine.—When new aspirants for popular favor are announced, the public have a right to demand the grounds upon which such show of title to their partonage is made. In action of the properties of religious sects, in the promulgation of creeds; and of persons in all pursuits of life, dependent upon the public for success, in their preparatory expositions of plans and purposes. The customs thus originating, though sometimes abused, are useful and proper, and should not be discarded. And when, in obedience to custom, new plans are proposed, those approving ought not to withhold their encouragement, as too many do, until they see that success is sure, for their sid may be needed to secure it. Such a foolish policy as this jeopardizes the plan they approve, and hastens its failure; it has defeated many important enterprizes, and has deprived the country of good and useful works. If a new proposition of any kind is approved by the public, the support of those approving is of right expected, their approval being solicited only in the view that their more substantial aid will not be withheld.

BRJEF OUTLINE OF THE PLAN OF THE PROPOSED PERIODICAL.

THE SOUTHERN CONSERVATIVE MAGAZINE will occupy grounds but little cultivated by American magazinists. It is believed that a field is open for a periodical of a new and, in some respects, a high r order than has been aimed at in our maga-zine literature. In this belief, and with such an aim, we announce the Southern Conservative Magyzine.

The new magazine will be national and not ectronal; claiming no merit by virtue of its es-ablishment in the South, but aiming at a higher usefulness and a more general acceptability. It will be Protestant, but not sectarian; opposing religious bigotry or intollerance on the one side, and infidelity on the other-laboring in its teachings to advance a closer union between the several brauches of the great family of the church.

It will be political, but liberal; owing no slavish allegiance to parties or politicians, it will advocate mersures, not men, and will labor only for the

It will be progressive, yet sternly opposed to the reckless spirit of innovation so rile in the country—aiming to elevate and advance, not depress; to reform and improve, not to destroy; sacredly adhering to the true intent of our great republican theory, and laboring to advance it to its fullest development.

is fullest development.

It will be truly American in tone and sentiment, but will repudiate nothing foreign, merely because so; believing that the good, the useful, and true t clong not, par excellence, to any favored people, but are the common right of all.
